THE GOOD QUEEN VICTORIA.

The Surprises Everybody by reason of Her Continued Activity and Vigor—Selbourne Peerage Incident. The American Style of Racing.

(Special Cable Letter.)

LONDON, May 18.—The immensity of a question of Parliament increases, and it is not alone that the government party is now only ten, but that the government party are clamoring for an appeal to the country, and demanding that the ministry shall go immediately to the polls. In order to meet this ultimatum, the government is now in a position to have grave dissensions in the cabinet over the question whether to proceed with further business or to indicate that the time is up.

The Westminster Gazette, in its issue of to-day, publishes an article under the caption "Now or Never" in which it says: "There the government mean to reverse in its policy of filling up its up and promoting a bill for the House of Lords to reject, and taking a line which only timid Liberals can approve. Unless the ministers take the line of the Gazette, they will be regarded as 'timid' and 'timid' is a word which they cannot afford to be called. All things considered, the sooner they dissolve the House of Commons the better." In these utterances, which are the utterances of the Westminster Gazette, as well as the utterances of the London Standard, in a speech to his constituents at Northampton last evening, Lord Salisbury, who is the leader of the Conservative party, declared that he was not prepared to indicate that the time is up.

BERLIN NEWS NOTES.

Neither Hohenlohe Nor Von Koeller Hurt by Government Failures.

A "COUP D'ETAT" SUGGESTED.

Proposed Motion in the Prussian Landtag Looking to the Abolition of Universal Suffrage—Other Talk "Under the Linden."

(Special Cable Letter.)

BERLIN, May 18.—The failure of the leading government projects does not seem to have impaired the position of either Chancellor von Hohenlohe or Herr von Koeller, the Prussian Minister of the Interior. Both the foreign and the home press over-hastily concluded that changes in the Ministry would inevitably follow the defeat of the anti-revolution and anti-tobacco-tax bills, forgetting how these measures, particularly the anti-revolution bill, originated. The press blamed the Chancellor and Herr von Koeller, the authors of the measures, that Count von Caprivi, who was Chancellor when the bill was drafted, would undoubtedly have been entrained to carry through the bill if the Emperor had not found the time opportune to dismiss him.

The Emperor is credited with regretting that he has to rely upon Herr von Koeller's manner of handling debates, both in committee and at the plenary sittings of the House. A report is current that hearing some one allude to Herr von Koeller's style as offensive to the Reichstag, the Emperor said, "Quite right." Von Koeller today inaugurated the industrial exhibition at Strassburg, in the presence of a large number of people from many parts of the Empire.
